

Somerville Pediatric Dentist

CAMBRIDGE CHILDREN'S DENTISTRY

Dr. Pedram Javedan grew up all over the world. He has lived in the UK, Ecuador, Canada and the US. He currently resides in Cambridge with his family and is passionate about getting involved within the local community. He attended Tufts University where he graduated with a B.A. in Psychology. He went on to the University of Toronto School of Dentistry to receive his Doctorate in Dental Surgery. He furthered his education at the Montefiore Medical Centre/ Albert Einstein College of Medicine in New York, completing both a Certificate in General Practice Residency and Certificate in Pediatric Dentistry over the course of 3 years.

Cambridge Children's Dentistry

Welcome to Cambridge Children's Dentistry, a pediatric dental practice located conveniently in West Cambridge, near Belmont and Watertown. Excellent oral health is essential for a child's health and development. We are here to help you every step of the way in providing this for your child in order to give them a healthy start in life.

At Cambridge Children's Dentistry, we are committed to making your child's first dental visit comfortable and enjoyable. We always encourage the parents to join us during treatment so they can be part of the experience.

Prevention is our number one goal. As part of my practice, I encourage parents to get highly involved in this process. Maintaining good oral hygiene and good dietary habits, ensuring regular dental check-ups and an assessment to the exposure to adequate levels of fluoride; these are but a few of the preventative measures that are emphasized during the critical years of your child's growth. My goal of prevention extends to recording and monitoring your child's bite in order to identify any particular needs in a timely fashion. There are many factors that, if considered during the growth process of a child's dentition, can help minimize problems with the bite later in teenage years.

Our office only uses amalgam-free fillings and digital radiography.

We see children of all ages at our office, from infants to teenagers. We also have a lot of experience in treating patients with special needs.

Pediatric Dentistry in Cambridge, MA

Welcome to Cambridge Children's Dentistry, your neighborhood pediatric dentist! Come and visit our newly opened pediatric dental office in Cambridge, Massachusetts. Cambridge Children's Dentistry specializes in preventive and restorative pediatric dentistry. Dr. Pedram Javedan and his staff provide a relaxing and caring environment for your children's dental needs. Dr. Javedan is a 3rd generation dentist and prides himself in personally taking care of every patient, while taking his time to make both patients and parents comfortable every visit. We are an amalgam-free, latex-free, and stress-free office, conveniently located in the Cambridge Medical Building, (same building as West Cambridge Pediatric and Adolescent Medicine and Yogman Pediatric Associates), where Mount Auburn street meets Brattle street.

For more information Please visit
<http://www.cambridgechildrensdentistry.com>